ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

Tsinghua boasts the most selective undergraduate and graduate programs in Mainland China, and is among the top 30 universities in the world, according to 2020 Times Higher Education and QS rankings. The Tsinghua School of Economics and Management (Tsinghua SEM) is in the midst of an energetic campaign to attract world-class scholars to join the faculty. Situated within Beijing in a former Qing Dynasty garden that made Forbes' list of the World's Most Beautiful College Campuses, it provides a stimulating research environment and possibilities of teaching undergraduate, Master's (research-oriented, MBA and EMBA) and Ph.D. students. More information about the school can be found at <http://www.sem.tsinghua.edu.cn/en/>.

The Department of Leadership and Organization Management encourages individuals with (or expect to hold before employment) a Ph.D. degree in management and related fields such as economics, social psychology, industrial and organizational psychology, sociology, labor economics and political science. Preference will be given to those experienced faculty at associate and full professors with tenure. Candidates must have a strong commitment to effective teaching, productive research, and quality services to the school, the university, and the society.

The interview will be conducted online due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. To apply, please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, sample publications or working papers, and three letters of references to scholar@sem.tsinghua.edu.cn. Please specify the department you are applying for in your email title.

Screening of candidates will start immediately and will continue until the positions are filled.
