Undergraduate Programs

Undergraduate Degree Programs

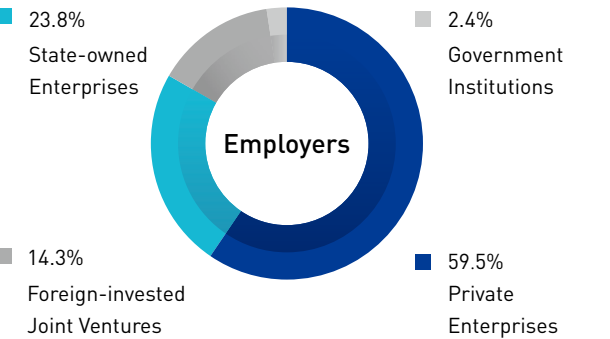

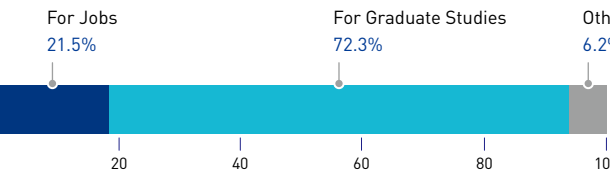

Undergraduate education at Tsinghua SEM sticks to a three-in-one idea of “value formation, capability development and knowledge acquisition”, putting “value formation” at the first place. In 2019, the school continually optimized the general education course system, adding “Computer Intelligence and Data Science” as a compulsory course. In 2020, it continued to perfect the system by establishing six major course modules including “understanding civilization”, “exploring society”, “scientific thinking”, “discernment, communication and leadership”, “creativity, imagination and innovation” and “global competence”, as well as successfully offered 102 online courses during the spring semester. The Computer Science & Finance Undergraduate Dual Degree Program welcomed its first students in 2020. The first Tsinghua-CUHK Dual Degree Program in Economics is launched in 2021.

Education on Creativity, Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Tsinghua x-lab

Since its establishment in 2013, Tsinghua x-lab has been committed to building an education ecosystem focusing on creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship. Its educational resources have grown more abundant year by year. The x-lab held a symposium themed "Constructing the Ecosystem of Entrepreneurship and Innovation Education in Colleges and Universities" on October 31, 2020. About 30 educators in relevant fields discussed the new paradigm of entrepreneurship and innovation education under new circumstances. The final of the 2nd SDG Open Hack was held on November 29, 2020, attracting over 1,000 participants. About 180 innovation plans were born in the competition. In order to discover, foster and improve students' leadership skills in entrepreneurship, the 8th Tsinghua University President's Innovation Challenge opened on March 27, 2021. It attracted 80 startups in the fields of internet, environment, education, health and advanced manufacturing. The 10th Tsinghua Great Idea Challenge was held on May 30, 2021. The competition focused on the fields related to SDG (Sustainable Development Goals) of the United Nations and seven emerging strategic industries in China. The core concept of the competition was to "put forward great ideas to create values for mankind and society". Forty five teams from Tsinghua University took part in it. Tsinghua x-lab started a "Faculty-Student Joint Venture Online Salon" since the summer of 2020 to explore the method and mode of the joint venture and the transformation of scientific and technological achievements. A total of 13 salons have been held so far. More than 40 project founders, joint venture mentors and investors and over 1,000 faculty and students have participated the salons. Tsinghua SEM signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) and the Geneva School of Economics and Management of the University of Geneva on May 27, 2021. The agreement aimed at enhancing the ongoing collaboration in the education of open innovation for SDGs, cooperation between students and scientific research innovation.

Tsinghua SEM X-elerator

Tsinghua SEM X-elerator is a value-empowered ecosystem for global entrepreneurs and startups that embodies the spirit of Tsinghua. Adhering to the concept of "serving the entrepreneurs" and aiming at "bringing together elite global entrepreneurs, nurturing young business leaders", X-elerator has developed a 3-in-1 service system composed of education, space and investment with a global vision. From July to September 2020, Tsinghua SEM X-elerator launched "Global Entrepreneurial Leaders Club in innovative medicine (1st batch)". This education program with WANG Xiaodong (the Member of the National Academy of Sciences, USA and the Academician of Chinese Academy of Sciences) as the chief mentor, supported by Institute for Hospital Management of Tsinghua University and Global Health Drug Discovery Institute (GHDDI). This program invited 25 top-tier academicians, professors, entrepreneurs and investors with in-depth sharing on healthcare industry and gathered 27 founders from startups, senior managers and investors in innovative medicine. In June 2021, Tsinghua SEM X-elerator launched "Applied Blockchain and Digital Economy Innovative Pioneer Program (1st batch)" with the support of Tsinghua SEM China Center for Financial Research Institute (CCFR). This program aims to assist entrepreneurs to gain insights and new opportunities of the industries in digital economy with accelerating technology, enterprise integration and exploring the pathway of industrial upgrade.

A seminar on the work of alumni was held in the new Shanghai Alumni Center of Tsinghua SEM.

International Cooperation

Tsinghua SEM strives to develop and innovate international collaboration, aiming to cultivate students with global competence. STEP (Stanford-Tsinghua Exchange Program) was delivered in hybrid method for the first time between Tsinghua SEM and Stanford GSB. The program, featuring China-US exchanges beyond the pandemic, provided students the opportunity to organize events with teamwork. This year the overall amount of events exceeded the program history record. Tsinghua SEM also conducted an online event with Pontifical Catholic University of Chile to retrospect the experience of China-Chile Immersion Exchange Program over the past decade and maintain the two schools long-standing partnership even under the pandemic. Tsinghua SEM hosted The Economy Post-pandemic Day for Tsinghua GSS (Global Summer School), featuring numerous experts in the fields to help guide students to explore and understand the opportunities and challenges for post-pandemic world economy. The School brought together prestige professors and well-known Chinese and overseas industry leaders to share by way of lectures, webinars, and discussion panels.

During the pandemic, Tsinghua SEM regularly participated in meetings held by international organizations including AAPBS (Association of Asia-Pacific Business Schools) and PIM (Partnership in International Management). In the AAPBS meeting, member schools exchanged information on pandemic prevention and control, how they were coping with the situation, and how they maintained active communication among partners. During the PIM meeting, nearly 70 partner schools around the world participated in online meetings, and Tsinghua SEM introduced to the others the situation and cooperation status under the pandemic situation.
